MURDER GUILT IS ADMITTED

Hearing On Testimony To Fix Degree Of Crime Is Recessed Until 3 P. M.

Mrs. Ora Marogna, of Shingle Springs, indicted by the grand jury on a charge she murdered Mrs. Sadie Buntan at Shingle on or about July 27, pleaded guilty to the charge at an arraignment Friday morning in Superior Court before Judge George H. Thompson.

The defendant was represented by Attorney Hale Day.

The court then took up testimony concerning the crime with a view to determining whether the crime is a murder of the first degree and recessed at 11:30 o'clock to convene again at 3 o'clock this afternoon for the taking of further testimony.

Judge Thompson took particular pains to inform Mrs. Marogna of the seriousness of the charge against her and of the law governing murder cases before proceeding to arraignment. The court read from the penal code a section defining murder in the first degree as including crimes of murder committed after lying in wait, and another section pointing out that the penalty for murder in the first degree may be either death or life imprisonment and that the penalty for murder in the second degree may be imprisonment for a minimum period of five years and a maximum period of life in prison.

Being thus informed, the case proceeded to arraignment and upon receiving the plea of the defendant and of her counsel that she is guilty of the crime of murder, the taking of testimony to fix the degree of the crime opened with Deputy Sheriff Ralph Jones called to the stand.

Deputy Jones related the circumstances of his having been called to

ITINERANT YOUTH HELD FOR INVESTIGATION IN POLICE COURT

Richard King, 21, charged with defrauding an innkeeper, presented such an unsatisfactory story in police court Friday morning that he was by Judge Eugene Creed, remanded to jail for 48 hours pending investigation.

King had come to Placerville several days ago and, the court found, had been a guest for three days at the Ivy Hotel without the formality of having signed the register, when proprietor John A. Raffetto, Jr., met him in a corridor one day and asked him to explain his presence.

King, it was charged, had slept three nights at the hotel and had not missed a meal, but had not signed the register. Being unable to meet charges assessed for the accommodations, he was charged with defrauding an innkeeper and taken into custody Thursday night by Officer Marvin Killian.

In police court Friday morning, King was extremely vague as to his recent whereabouts and Officer D. W. LeBourveau informed the court that he had found in the young man's scanty effects, an automobile driver's license belonging to a man who was killed recently in an auto accident at Sacramento. Also, some other effects belonging to this man were found.

In view of all circumstances, King was remanded to jail while city officers planned to communicate with Sacramento officers concerning the circumstances of the recent auto accident.

CANNING PEACH INDUSTRY FACING LOSSES, STATE WARNS

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—California's peach canning industry faces huge losses and chaotic marketing conditions unless a proposed marketing order is put into effect this year, the department of agriculture warned today in a statement to growers and canners.

The marketing order, prepared by the department at the request of the industry, provides for a pack of 140 tons, inspection and grading by neutral inspectors, and advertising and trade promotion fund of about $140,000 and provisions for equalizing the cost of surplus disposal among all growers.

About 25 per cent of growers and a few canners have assented, with 65 per cent necessary to institute the plan.

RAYMOND HAIGHT TO SPEAK SATURDAY

Candidate For Governor Will Visit Placerville; Address Meeting At Bell Tower

Raymond Haight, Progressive Party candidate for Governor of California, who also is a candidate for nomination on the Republican and Democratic tickets, will visit Placerville Saturday morning.

Mr. Haight scheduled a visit to the county several weeks ago, but at a late hour circumstances developed which made it impossible for him to keep the appointment. His friends report he positively will be in Placerville Saturday morning.

Upon receipt of word of Mr. Haight's plans to visit Placerville Saturday morning, plans were immediately made for a public meeting to be held at the bell tower on the plaza at 10:30 o'clock, at which the voters will have the opportunity to hear Mr. Haight speak concerning the issues of the campaign.

Japanese Seek Negotiations

Russian Artillery Continue Bombardment On Frontier Border Lines Today

TOKY, (AP)—An artillery battle broke out on the Siberia-Korea-Manchukuo frontier today as Japan sought to initiate diplomatic negotiations with Russia to settle the border dispute peacefully.

Russian artillery opened a bombardment of the Changkufeng area at 5:43 a. m., today, a foreign office spokesman said, and Japanese artillery then opened up in reply. It was indicated that the exchange was proceeding still this afternoon.

The Japanese war office issued a communique at 9 p. m. reporting that Soviet artillery had bombarded Changkufeng throughout the day. Sporadic attacks were also reported in the Kowu area.

Kensuke Horinouchi, vice foreign minister, at once made a strong protest against the Russian bombardment to Constantin Smetanin, the Russian embassy charge d'affaires, the spokesman said.

Feared news reached here of the new outbreak, the foreign office spokesman had disclosed that Horinouchi yesterday made the same proposal to Smetanin as those made by Japanese ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu to Maxim Litvinov, Russian foreign commissar as Moscow.

Attorney O. B. Murdock will make his first appearance in the El Dorado County Superior Court in a criminal matter on Monday, when he appears as attorney by appointment for Alton B. Dement, charged with burglary.

The defendant appeared in court Friday morning and pleaded that he had no attorney and no funds to employ an attorney, whereupon Judge George H. Thompson appointed Mr. Murdock to advise him and continued the time for pleading until Monday morning.

Dement is charged with burglarizing the room of William Beck.

Only 161 To Try For Amateur Title

NEW YORK, (AP)—Only 161 entries have been received for the 1938 National Amateur Golf championship and the deadline is just eight days away, the U. S. Golf Association announced today.

The association expected a large entry because the scene of the championship, Oakmont, Pa., is centrally located.

DICTATOR—Geoffrey Lloyd, 36, year-old British Under-Secretary of State for Home Affairs, will devote his whole time to air raid precautions, particularly in training of civilians to meet war-time attacks from the skies. Announcement of this recently was made in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Chamberlain. Britain is planning to increase the Royal Air Force by more than 40 per cent by March, 1939. Thousands of war planes are being manufactured.

LITTLE RELIEF IN WEATHER SEEN

Three New York Deaths Are Blamed To Long Siege Of Extreme Heat

By UNITED PRESS
The weather man gave only indefinite promises of relief today when he said scorching temperatures which entered the 12th consecutive day in some sections of the country may fall to normal late tomorrow if a cool mass of air from the Pacific Coast continues eastward over the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Three persons died of heat prostration in New York City yesterday where the maximum temperature was 85 and the humidity increased to 91. Twelve deaths were reported in the northern part of the state. At Hornell, N. Y., the temperature reached 100.

Slightly lower temperatures were expected late today in the Great Lakes region and the Ohio valley.

The plains states, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas, as well as the upper Mississippi valley, Minnesota and Wisconsin had only higher temperatures in store for them.

Two relief workers were killed by lightning in an electrical storm which preceded the slightly lower temperatures yesterday at Cleveland.

Hot spots of the country yesterday included Topeka, Manhattan, and Elkhart, Kan., Warsaw, Mo., and Akron and Lamar, Colo., where the mercury had reached 102.

Citizens at Lewistown, Mont., and vacationists in Yellowstone Park wrapped up in sweaters when the thermometer registered 44, the lowest in the country for yesterday.

MEDAL FOR WIDOW OF NAVAL AVIATOR KILLED IN CRASH

SAN DIEGO, (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth P. Hutchins, widow of the late Lt. Carlton B. Hutchins who was killed last February in a seaplane collision 100 miles offshore, has received word she will be presented with the Naval Medal of Honor in recognition of her husband's bravery.

Secretary of Navy Claude Swanson, said the medal, one of the highest government awards, would be given "For Lt. Hutchins' cool, calculated conduct which contributed principally to the saving of the lives of all who survived."

The mid-air collision killed 11 of the 14 men comprising the crews of the two planes.

Radio-Telephone To Link Hudson Bay

MOOSONEE, Ont., (AP)—A chain of radio-telephone stations are to be set up along the bleak coast of Hudson Bay by Father Schulte, German "Flying Priest of the Arctic."

The new stations, which will be paid from the proceeds of lectures given by Father Schulte in Canada, and the United States, will be at Fort Albany, Attawapiskat, East Main, Fort George, Churchill and Igloo Inlet.

The "flying priest" serves 1,500,000 square miles in the Arctic and sub-Arctic, and the stations will aid him considerably in his work.

UTILITY PROPERTY VALUE DECLINES

Worth Of Tangible Holdings Subject To Local Taxation $83,090 Less In County

SACRAMENTO — A valuation of $990,403,660 was placed on public utility property throughout California in a report submitted to the State Board of Equalization today by A. G. Mott, director of the Board's valuation division.

While the value of tangible property represents a slight increase over the total assessment roll of the previous year, the roll to be submitted to counties for assessment purposes shows a reduction inasmuch as $11,668,530, representing the value of the rolling stock of private car companies and previously included in the local rolls, now is subject to state taxes only under the Private Car Tax Act of 1937.

As a result of this change, it was explained, the value of tangible public utility subject to local taxation was placed at $939,104,700 as compared with $948,651,280 for 1937. The intangible property was listed at $39,630,430 as compared with $55,094,920 the previous year.

In El Dorado county the 1937 utility values included tangible property, $4,340,750, as compared with $4,257,660 in 1936.

Verbal Clashes In Inquiry Seen

Democratic Candidate For Governor To Be Called By Grand Jury

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Verbal fireworks were expected today when Colonel William Neblett, Democratic candidate for governor, is called before the Sacramento Grand Jury to explain his asserted connection with an assembly interim inquiry into unionism in the motion picture industry last year.

It was not known whether Assembly Speaker William Moseley Jones, involved with Neblett in the investigation of the international alliance of theatrical stage employees, would make a voluntary appearance before the jury.

Neblett, after sitting in the jury room all day yesterday without being called, left no doubt as to his feelings.

"I'm not going to tell them a thing," he said. "Just let them try to learn anything from me. I'll give those lawyers a lesson in the principles of law. For that matter, what right has a Sacramento Grand Jury to investigate affairs of Los Angeles County?"

Special Prosecutor George M. Naus, handling the jury's inquiry into the charges of legislative corruption, definitely involved Neblett and Jones in his questioning. Neblett is a former law partner of Jones and is attorney for the I. A. T. S. E. Two of his detectives were designated by Jones to work for the assembly committee on capital labor.

Assemblyman Ken B. Dawson of San Francisco, a candidate for Congress, assailed the employment of the Neblett investigators and charged their subsequent report "white-washed" the powerful theatrical union.

FLOOD DAMAGE REPAIR ALLOCATIONS ARE ANNOUNCED

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—Flood allocations from the emergency repair fund allocated by the special legislative session were announced by the governor's office as follows:

TRES PINOS, (AP)—A unique Masonic gathering took place here when Dan McDonald, 100, oldest living Mason in the United States, received visits from W. R. Livingston, 92, of Sunnyvale, who says he is the second oldest living Mason, and Roddy Shaw, 86, oldest living lodge secretary from the standpoint of continuous service. The combined age of the three men was 278 years.

ROBBERY MOTIVE IN MURDER OF VOLCANOVILLE PROSPECTOR

Frank Ernst Known To Have Been Alive On June 16th And May Have Been Slain After June 27th, Says Sheriff; Investigation To Be Continued

Frank Ernst, prospector whose body was found July 12 on the Middle Fork of the American River below Cock Robin Point, may have been murdered only two weeks before.

This is the suspicion of Sheriff George M. Smith who this week took up investigation of the case which was shown last Sunday to be a murder case when a more minute examination of the body revealed a bullet hole through the skull.

Corrigan Given Great Welcome

31-Year-Old Californian Greatest Hero Since Lindbergh Flight

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP)—It was a great day for the Irish.

They laughed and they cried and they yelled like mad.

They pushed and craned their necks and swore that Douglas G. Corrigan was the finest boy that ever hopped an ocean—and no cracks about his nine-year old plane being a "crate," either.

It was a great day for the Irish, and it was a great day for the 31 year old Californian who flew to Dublin "by mistake" and then came home to the daffiest and perhaps the biggest reception in the history of the big town.

It was a great day for the Irish, but it was just a great day for everybody else. The Cohens were "Corrigan to you" and the Rappaports were green. Everybody toasted everybody else in "Corrigan cocktails" and restaurants dished out mountains of corned beef and cabbage.

Just one other occasion in the annals of New York was comparable a day in June, 1927, when a tall, shy, somewhat bewildered young man by the name of Charles A. Lindbergh rode up the same "heroes highway" which became Corrigan's glory road 11 years later.

And that other occasion—with its tremendous, spontaneous and unforgettable outpouring of mass hero worship—was repeated and reflected in this one.

For had there been no Lindbergh there would have been no Corrigan. Back in 1926, when he was a mechanic in a San Diego airplane shop, Corrigan helped to assemble "The Spirit of St. Louis" in which Lindbergh flew to Paris. Ever since, Corrigan has had but one dream—to be like Lindbergh.

Police estimated the early crowd at half a million to 750,000 and said it was twice as big and at least three times as noisy as that which greeted Howard Hughes and his four companions after their flight around the world—the din was terrific.

The Irishman made a completely satisfying hero. The shouts of "Yeah Corrigan" he responded with hearty flips of the good right hand which kept his frail and overloaded craft straight on the "backward" flight to Dublin, and never once did he turn off his famous grin. His shoulders were shrouded with ticker tape and "telephone book confetti" which obscured the sun.

At city hall hundreds of police kept the crowds back while Mayor F. H. LaGuardia gave him a "hero's greeting."

"Douglas Corrigan," the Mayor shouted, "congratulations and welcome back."

"Thanks Mr. Mayor," the flier replied. "I've had lots of luck and the best part of my luck is the luck I'm having right now."

Corrigan was perspiring but still smiling as he posed on the city hall steps.

Corrigan said today he had turned down scores of financial opportunities, including offers of $10,000 from one firm which wanted to use his plane for advertising, $25,000 from another, and $50,000 a week for night club appearances.

He said he was angry because his photograph was used in a beer advertisement.

He said he had signed a contract with America Airlines before the flight to make a tour of 50 American cities. But the contract depended, he said, on whether he flew non-stop from New York to Los Angeles.

"I started for Los Angeles and did not get there," he said, "so I don't know if the contract is still valid."

WEATHER

Fair and continued warm tonight and Saturday; variable winds.

ROAD MEETING HELD AT SACRAMENTO ON FRIDAY MORNING

A large delegation of business men of the county went to Sacramento Friday morning to attend a conference with the state highway commission, arranged by the Mother Lode Highway Association.

Under plans advanced by the association, the general plea for road betterment in the counties represented in the association was to be voiced by Alex Ross, of Jackson, with speakers representing the individual counties telling of the projects which they most need.

H. E. Dillinger, a director of the association, had been designated to speak in this regard on behalf of El Dorado County.

TICKET TROUBLE AT ROSE BOWL IS IRONED OUT

PASADENA, (AP)—The biggest single thorn has been removed from this city's annual Rose Bowl football game with the announcement that beginning Jan. 1, 1939, the general public at last will be cut in on the tickets.

Kicked around for years after building what was a mere neighborhood attraction into a national spectacle, the general fans will be given a chance at 40 per cent of the tickets. Eighteen thousand of these will be sold across the counter, with applications being turned down.

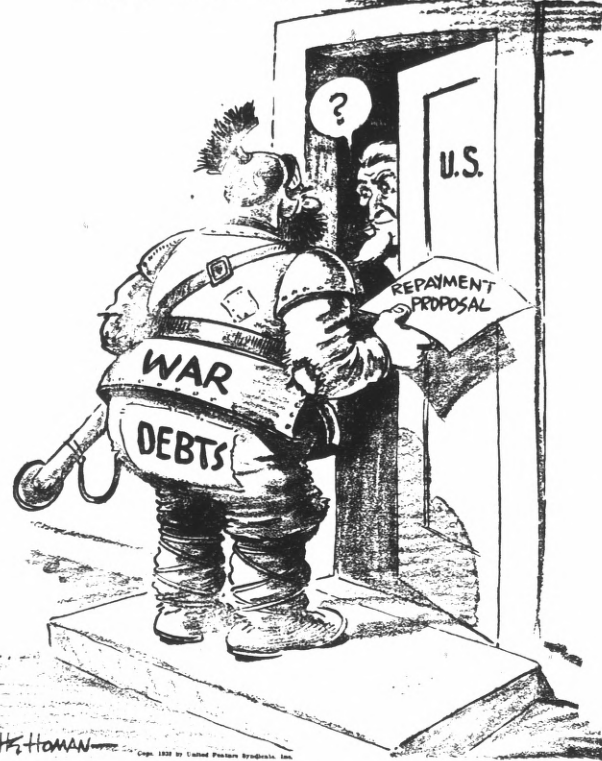

Henceforth the 80-odd thousand seats will be cut into three slices. Forty per cent will be earmarked for the public, 50 per cent for the western representative and 10 per cent for the press and various civic bodies. A block of 5,000 will be reserved for the eastern invader, which only once in history has required a greater number.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK. For George Hudson's sake I wish there were a Baker Street in New York, and that on Baker Street lived Sherlock Holmes, ready at any time, day or night, to jump in his trap and gallop off to solve a mystery.

Because George Hudson, tennis coach at the Berkeley Tennis Club of Berkeley, California, and one of the finest teachers of the game, is confronted with a mystery. The mystery concerns what officials of the United States Lawn Tennis Association told young Frankie Kovacs on a hot and sticky afternoon during the recent Seabright tournament.

It must have been an ominous message, because it turned him dead against a man who had been his friend, his coach, and his adviser for more than five years.

That friend, that coach, and that adviser, was George Hudson. He started teaching Kovacs when Frank was a gangling boy of 13. Finally Frank developed sufficient stroke equipment to be one of the most promising players in the country. When Frank decided to come east this year for a whirl on the big-time circuit, he asked Hudson to come with him; made Hudson give a pledge that he would accompany him every step of the way.

Hudson, paying his own way, left the coast with Kovacs early in June. The two—pupil and coach—went to tournaments in Kansas City, Chicago, and Cincinnati. They roomed together, ate together, played together.

Then they reached Seabright, a tournament important enough to bring out high U. S. L. T. A. officials, on the lookout for Davis cup material.

Kovacs played magnificently. Came that afternoon when a photographer asked Kovacs and Hudson to pose for a picture. Out of a clear sky Kovacs refused.

Asked why, he answered, "I have my own reasons. I can't have that picture made."

Sitting in the lounge of the Governor Clinton Hotel with Kovacs playing at Southampton, Hudson told me what a shock the boy's behavior had been to him.

"I asked him what was the matter, and so did my wife," Hudson said. "All we could get out of him was that certain tennis officials had told him he positively must not be seen with me."

take any lessons from me, or travel around with me. I haven't seen him since. Just what the officials told him would happen to him unless he left me I do not know, but it must have frightened him."

I asked Mr. Hudson if he had not made inquiry among the tennis fathers.

"Yes, but I got little satisfaction. I talked to Mr. Holcombe Ward and he told me that Kovacs did not need my services any longer — that he was a completely equipped player, now, and furthermore, if he should, by any chance, need coaching, the Davis Cup committee would furnish it. I told him this was absurd—that Kovacs did need further help, especially on his forehand. But he started talking to some one else, and seemed to forget all about me."

Mr. Hudson does not intend letting the mystery drop. He is busy at work tearing away the mists that surround the entire transaction and promises some interesting developments in a few days.

I, along with the estimable Doctor Watson, am very interested in what Sherlock Holmes probably would have called "The Mystery of the Davis Cup Prospect" and will give you another installment soon.

Charlie's Cafe at Shingle the night of the crime, of his stopping at the cafe and there meeting Mr. Marogna who pointed out the body of the victim. Mrs. Sadie Bunton. The deputy then told of going to the Marogna home and of searching for the defendant and of meeting her at the front gate of the home. She had been at a cabin across the street and had come across the street to meet the deputy to give herself up. She admitted the crime, he said, and readily led him to the cabin opposite her home, where the gun was found and identified by her as the one used.

In recounting her three-hour vigil by the side of the cafe prior to the shooting, she told the deputy, he said, of having made up her mind to kill Mrs. Bunton when she heard Mrs. Bunton tell Mr. Marogna (the two were alone inside the cafe) that Mrs. Marogna had fished $18.75 from the cafe cash register.

A statement which had been taken from Mrs. Marogna by District Attorney Henry S. Lyon in the sheriff's office at Placerville following the commission of the crime, was then offered in evidence with the consent of the defendant and her counsel.

The statement related the defendant's objections to having Mrs. Bunton in her home, and of her several protests to her husband on this score and of his reply to the effect that Mrs. Bunton should stay and that if anyone should leave, Mrs. Marogna should leave.

Also included in the statement were assertions by the defendant of having found the victim and Mr. Marogna, on different occasions, in situations which she deemed not proper. These included instances when Mr. Marogna was naked in the bath tub and Mrs. Bunton pouring water over him, the statement said.

There were various references in the statement to strained relations between the three, Mrs. Marogna, Mr. Marogna and Mrs. Bunton, in which with profane comment, it appeared that Mr. Marogna had chosen to take the part of Mrs. Bunton in their differences.

Following the reading of this statement, Attorney Day asked the leave of the court to confer in the corridor with Mr. Marogna and upon their return a recess was taken until three o'clock.

FRONT DOOR CRASHES TAX HOME OWNER'S PATIENCE

SUPERIOR, Wis., (U)—Pat McDermott, former sheriff of Douglas county, wants to know whether he should move his house or if the state will move two highways which meet in front of it.

Last year a motorist crashed into the house. A second driver's car skidded and almost knocked it off the foundation.

When a third car bumped into his home, McDermott put up a sign. It read: "Eggs for sale."

That helped until recently when another motorist not only bowled over the sign but rammed into McDermott's house again. Within the next two days four other machines shook the cups off his pantry shelves.

McDermott said his patience is about exhausted.

Robbery Motive In Slaying

Robin Point, where the man's body was found.

About half-way down the Roanoke trail, the sheriff found papers including receipts for the purchase of groceries, which showed that Ernst had been to Georgetown on May 31 and again on June 16th. This latter time, Ernst's purchases included a certain brand of bacon and among the papers found by the side of the trail was the wrapper for the bacon.

The sheriff learned that on Ernst's trip "out" on June 16, he purchased groceries of a value of about seven dollars and paid for them with gold he had mined and received thirty-three dollars cash in addition.

The sheriff said he has reasons which he will not disclose at this time, to suspect that Ernst was alive as recently as June 27.

When the body was found, there was nothing in any of the pockets and the right-hand pocket of the man's overalls, was turned inside out.

Sheriff Smith went to the man's cabin about a quarter of a mile from the spot where the body was found and noted that the cabin was entirely lacking in any knives, forks, dishes or clothing, although Ernst had been known to reside there for a period of time long enough that he would have had some clothing and kitchen ware in the cabin.

At the spot where the body was found, the sheriff also found, a few feet from where the empty 38 shells had been picked up earlier, three empty 25.20 rifle shells.

The sheriff said that the spot where these and the 38 shells were found was about twenty-five paces from where the body lay, and behind a reef of rocks.

Admitting that clues in the case may be hard to put together at this late date, Sheriff Smith declares he is satisfied that Mr. Ernst was murdered with robbery as the motive.
